"SENATOR" GARPIELD sounds well, the more so because all the world knows he has carned the title. His unanimous nomination and certain election to succeed Senator Thurman are rewards bestowed upon a faithful public servant, a stanch partisan, for the people of the United States have a faithful public servant, a stanch partisan, and a loyal soldier.

WHILE Southern Democrats in Cougress large Irish population who have adopted are preaching restored loyalty in behalf of this country as their own, and who have their section the school-teachers down that been prompted to come among us under a way keep on teaching States' Rights and sense of wrong they have suffered in their Secession as among the cardinal principles native land. Whether their wrongs have of our Governmental system. In other been real or funcied, it is all the same with words they are teaching the Southern young them, for they have renounced the country idea how to shoot, as their fathers did, of their birth and adopted the United States against the Nation.

A LAW to make men honest is the only measure by which to secure a legal count of votes at the next Presidential or any other election. All other laws will fail of that object, and one system is as good or as bad debied to them for construction. Our school find has been given to Louisville gamblers by Governor their duties with the single and patriotic purpose of ascertaining the legal will of the real majority of the voters.

Succeeded in fixing the date of the State Convention to suit themselves, there would have been no howling about it whatever. The Grant men in that State, as in others, always stand ready to abide by the will of the majority. They don't threaten to bolt any especial nomination that may be made at Chicago, either.

In Boston Translated with Irish bravery. The bench and bar have Irish judges and lawyers. The American pulpit has Irish elergy and the soil has its Irish husbandmen, until every fibre of the material, political and social structure of this Nation holds a mixture of the Irish element within itself. THE Home-Rule mass-meeting to be held on the 23d inst. will be a grand and imposing affair. The public-spirited citizens of the District are intent upon obtaining a restoration of the right of suffrage. Meanwhile the self-satisfied political eunuchs are becoming alarmed at the progress of this movement, and it is to be expected they will soon start a counter-boom, as it were.
